FIFTEEN CENTS

Subdivision plans are discussed

Another subdivision may be in Antioch's future. John Frega appeared before Antioch trustees Monday as they met in committee sessions.

He hopes to build in the area known as Hickory Hollow, west of the Village Green subdivision.

The property, east of Anita St. and south of North Ave., would be the site for 72 units in the first phase, with a pilot project of 24 units.

Trustees asked the developer to submit engineering requirements for the first phase, showing storm water retention plans.

BUILDING PERMIT FEES will soon be changed, following review this week by village officials.

Trustees are expected to authorize village attorney Andrew Lynch at next Monday's regular board meeting to draw up such amendments.

THE MUNICIPAL PARKING lot south of Orchard and east of Broadway will be re-lined.

Many in the village have considered the aisles too narrow; therefore, the new plan calls for east-west aisles, yielding about 45 spaces.

Chamber meeting on Apr. 4 features mayoral candidates

Antioch's four mayoral candidates have been invited to talk at the Monday, Apr. 4, general membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

They are, in alphabetical order, Henry J. Gillman Jr., Michael J. Haley, Raymond P. Toft and J. Irving Walsh.

The meeting is open to all interested Antioch citizens and businessmen, according to the Chamber's president, Richard Kirkpatrick. The reservation deadline is Wednesday, Mar. 30, and persons wishing to attend should call the chamber office, 395-3881.

The meeting will be held at the Country House, formerly Lorenz's, with a $5 buffet lunch beginning at 12:15 p.m.

The meeting is intended to help voters make an informed choice on election day, Tuesday, Apr. 19, Kirkpatrick said.

THE CHAMBER'S RETAIL COMMITTEE is considering Mother's Day and Father's Day promotions to replace the Shopping Spree of previous years.

Maxwell Street Days are scheduled for Aug. 4-5-6. Midnight Madness will be held Aug. 25.

NEW CHAMBER MEMBERS are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hansen, Antioch Cycles, 887 Main St., and Robert Downey, Pin & Pleat Corporation, 391-93 Lake St.

Antioch school children are making posters in connection with "Wild-Life Week" Mar. 20 - 26.

Area businessmen are being asked to cooperate by displaying the posters in their windows. A school representative will be delivering them.

The Chamber of Commerce is working with the Antioch Post Office to change rural route addresses to permanent street addresses this spring.

"This change will allow better emergency service and also facilitate deliveries. Present street names will be retained," Kirkpatrick said.

Grade school group formed

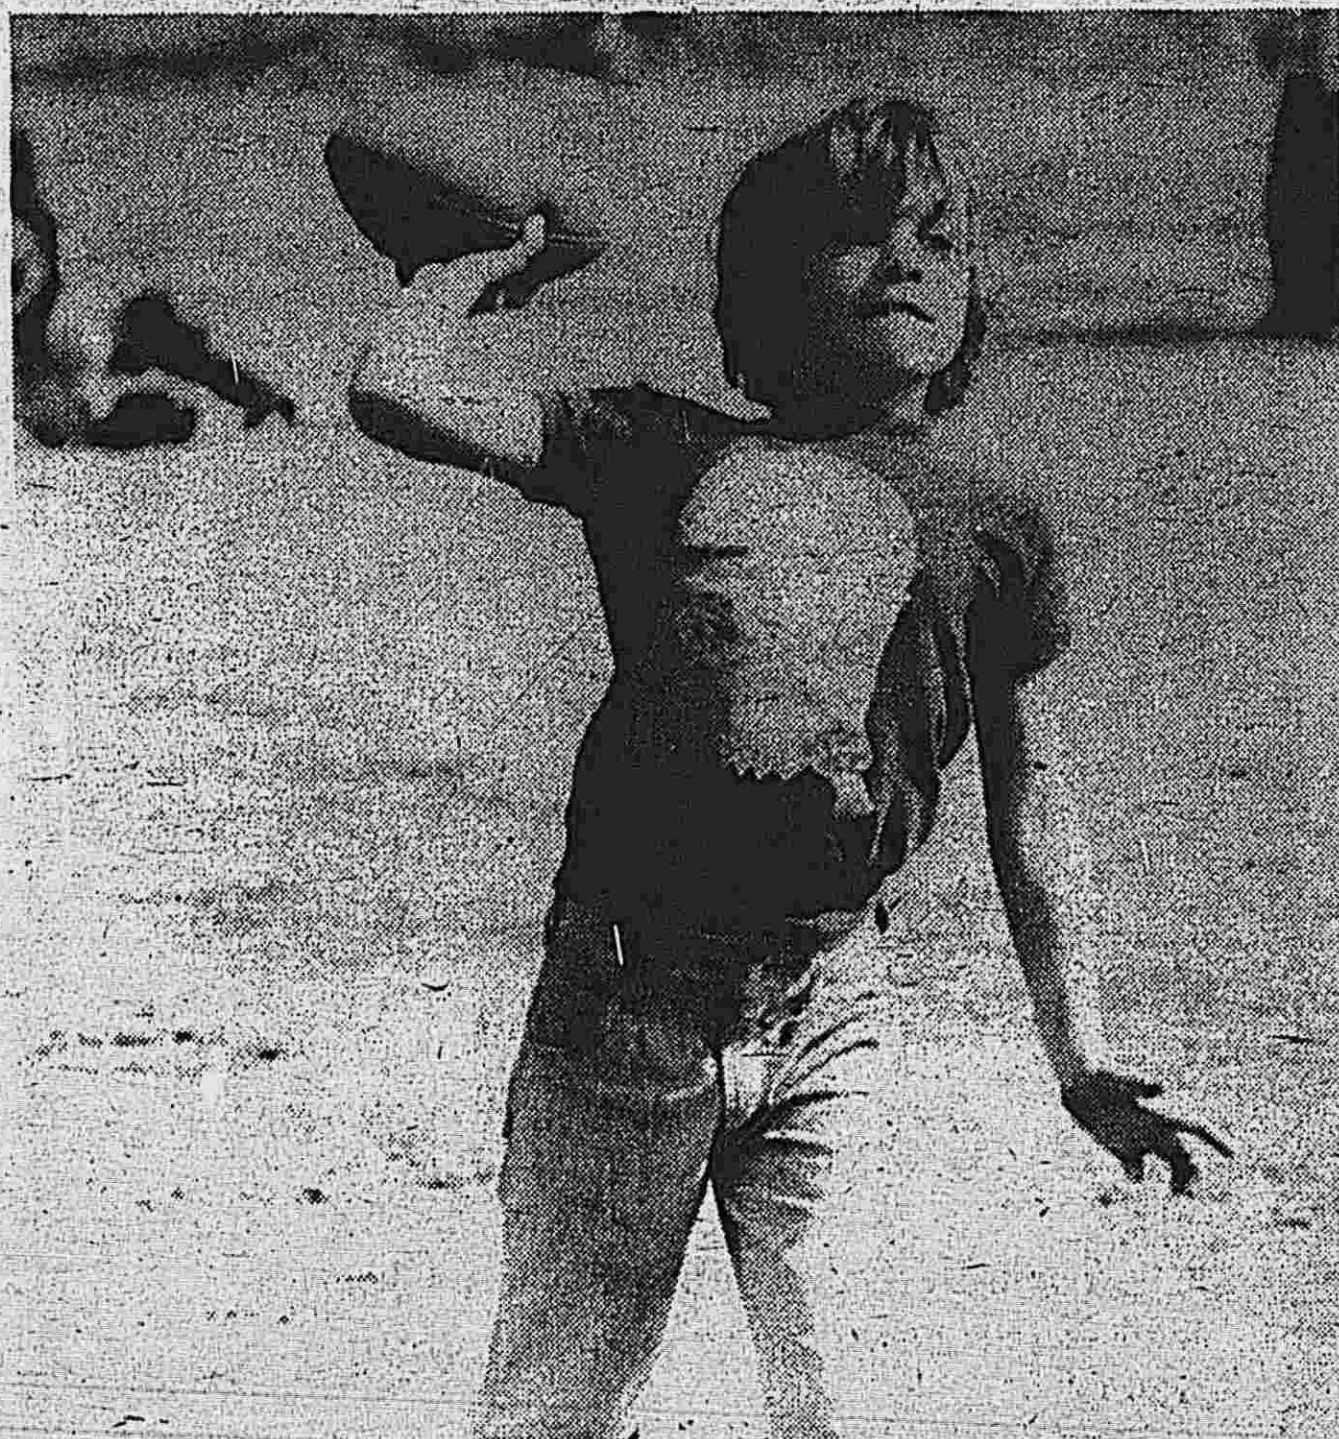

A volunteer citizens committee has been organized in Antioch Grade School District 34 to coordinate activities for an upcoming school building referendum.

The basic objectives, leaders of the committee say are to make district residents aware of the need for the referendum, why the need exists, the alternative solutions that have been considered, and the impact on the children of this area in the event the referendum is not approved.

The committee is composed of sub-committees for publicity, speaking and neighborhood visitation.

Additional volunteers are needed, a spokesman for the group said.

Interested persons can call any of the District 34 schools, or 356-3907 or 356-3876.

ANTIOCH'S NEXT JOE NAMATH, Shawn Reimer, enjoys noontime recess at the Lower Grade School. Shawn is a third grader at the school.

Burglars hit 2 homes in Antioch

Two house burglaries were reported to Antioch police last Friday.

Leslie M. Atwood, of 849 Hillandale, showed police how a basement window was pried open to gain entry to his home. A 12-inch screwdriver was found near the scene.

Atwood said the burglar made off with a stereo record player valued at $300, a $40 wristwatch and more than $20 in coins.

Also broken into was the home of Robert Rimkus of 728 Hillside. In this case, too, entry was gained through a basement window after the burglar tried to pry open a door.

Rimkus told police that drawers and cabinets were searched. Apparently the only thing missing was a $50 set of binoculars.

A woman on Hillside Ave. reported to police that she was awakened around midnight last Wednesday by a loud noise and flying glass. Police investigated and determined that the window was broken by a blast from a shotgun.

'Punishment should fit the crime'

We hope the Illinois legislature in Springfield sees fit to pass a bill which would require all people committing crimes with guns, knives or inherently dangerous weapons, upon conviction, to go to jail for not less than one year.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Ron Griesheimer (R-Waukegan), is a second attempt by this legislator to mandate that people committing such crimes actually have to go to jail without receiving probation.

WE HAVE ALL SEEN and read the newspapers on numerous occasions how people have involved themselves in serious felony crimes involving guns or knives and, after conviction, are granted probation so that they can go right out on the street again.

This makes a mockery of our judicial system. Although a jury has gone to the extent of finding a person guilty of such an offense, the courts by granting him the right to go back on the street are subjecting all of our citizens to unreasonable dangers.

Of even greater importance is the fact that it is showing the criminal there is no reason to refrain from future acts of criminality.

UNFORTUNATELY, GRIESHEIMER FEARS his bill won't be passed.

"I am hopeful for affirmative action," he said, "but I must point out that the makeup of the Judiciary II committee in the Illinois House of Representatives is so slanted to protect the defendant criminal cases that it is questionable whether such a bill will have a fair opportunity for passage.

"I am sure that all of the people of our state share the concern about this matter and hope that the extreme liberalism of the Judiciary committee will understand that the punishment for a crime must fit the crime."

Election posters don't belong on utility poles

Election posters placed on utility poles can cause serious injuries to linemen and other utility workers, a Commonwealth Edison official said Tuesday.

Joseph Scheuerman, Edison district manager, said that linemen climbing poles to repair wires and other overhead equipment may slip and fall as spikes on their climbing shoes strike nails, tacks and other hardware used to attach the posters.

Exposed sharp edges of leftover hardware can also injure a linemen's hands, Scheuerman said.

"In addition to creating a hazard, the posters and their fasteners may delay repair efforts during bad weather, when Edison crews are working to restore power to affected areas," he said.

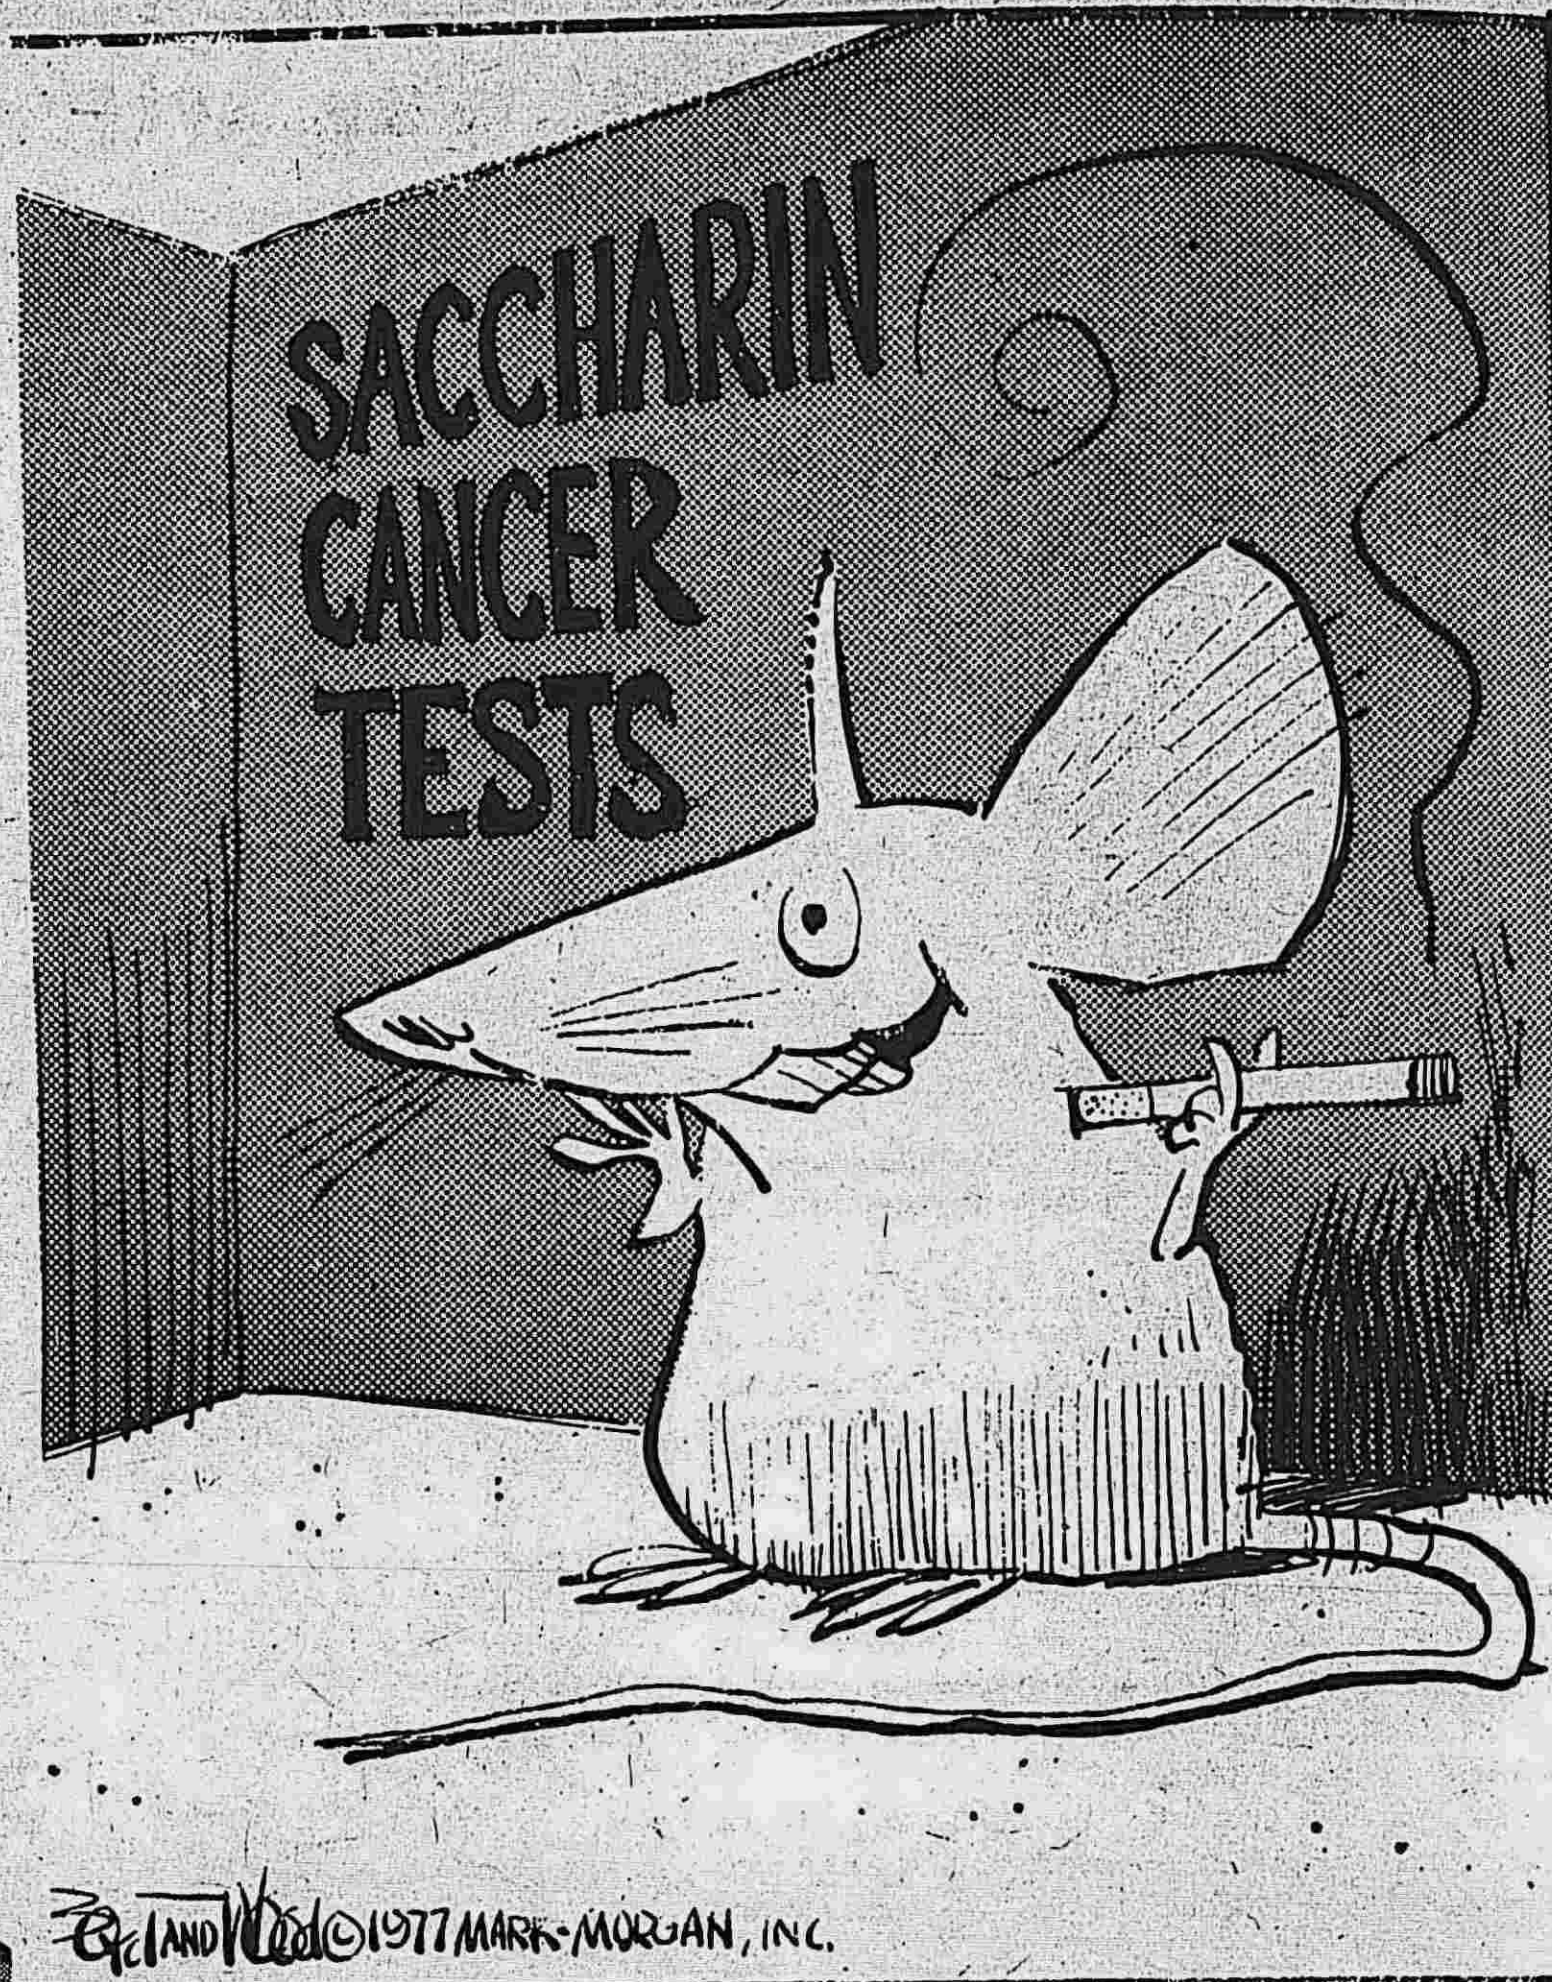

"In the final analysis the posters are unsightly and create hazardous situations and expensive maintenance problems for our crews" he said. "Edison linemen normally remove posters and hardware before climbing poles, but they don't always have the time to fully inspect each pole in emergencies."

Why do they pick on us Pisces people?

By JERRY PFARR

We Pisces are people born between Feb. 20 and Mar. 20 and the astrologers have simply given up on us. They write us off as the weakest link in the zodiac.

For example, the horoscope in today's Antioch News advises us to "try to keep temper under control; think before you act."

What they're trying to say is, Pisces are always messing things up.

In the Waukegan News-Sun yesterday the horoscope warned us Pisces:

"If you're overly optimistic you'll be disappointed."

OH YES, I'VE BEEN watching them for years and they are constantly putting us down.

Some examples:

"You live in the realm of the imaginative ... unhappy moments are likely to be yours ... don't make any major decisions today ... your sign has had many difficulties for quite some years ... it is unfortunate that most Pisceans tend to procrastinate ... you may not have been too happy these past years ... you feel your life rests on an insecure foundation ... avoid unnecessary travel."

Another one: "It's the kind of day you could absentmindedly walk into a door."

It isn't any fun getting up in the morning and reading that "look, you might as well go back to bed. You haven't got a snowball's chance ..."

THE ASTROLOGERS SAY NICE and encouraging things about everyone except those of us born between Feb. 20 and Mar. 20.

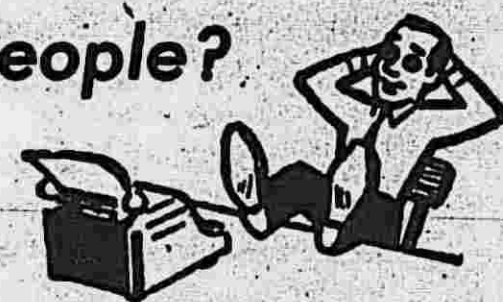

I think it's time somebody pointed out that not all Pisces are bad.

For example, Richard Nixon isn't a Pisces. He's a Capricorn. (But, you know what? His wife is a Pisces and look what she has had to endure.)

The famous comedian Lou Costello was a Pisces. Everybody just laughed at him.

Elizabeth Taylor is a Pisces. Had lots of happy marriages, hasn't she?

A fellow named John Ehrlichman is a Pisces, too. So was Napoleon. One had his Watergate, the other his Waterloo.

the way to President of the United States. James Madison, for example, ... he was blamed for the mistake that caused the war of 1812. And Andrew Jackson, who got the most votes in 1824 but was voted down by the House of Representatives. He finally got to be President in 1828 and history blames him for ruining the Bank of the United States.

There also was Grover Cleveland, whose administration was racked by a severe depression and labor troubles.

YOU PROBABLY DIDN'T KNOW it, but Nero was a Pisces. A famous fiddler that Nero.

And how about Teddy Kennedy, of Chappaquiddick, and that happy-movie actress, Marilyn Monroe?

And then there was the guy who tried to dock the Hindenburg at Lakehurst, N.J.

We even understand that Edgar Bergen carved Charlie McCarthy in the month of March.

But we're not all dummies. At the very moment you're reading this, I'm on my way home. Going back to bed.

Santino also has added windows in HARBOR RIDGE RESTAURANT is now serving luncheons Tuesday through Saturday from 11:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

It is also open for dinner on those days from 5 to 10 p.m. It is closed Mondays, but on Sundays food will be served from 12 noon until 9 p.m.

Postmaster discusses cure for mail headache

The U.S. Postal Service has a $344 million dollar headache known as "UAA" (Undeliverable As Addressed) and is asking the mailing public to help ease some of the "pain."

Last year, the nation's post offices received more than three billion pieces of mail that could not be delivered as addressed. Cost of handling that mail is estimated at $344 million.

Much of this undeliverable mail could become deliverable with cooperation from mail users, Antioch Postmaster Gerald Ehrhart said.

FOR EXAMPLE, WHEN YOU plan to move and know your new address, let your post office and those who send you mail regularly (newspaper and magazine publishers, people you do business with, family members and friends, clubs, etc.) know about your move.

Carter's appointee oozes
with conflict of interest

By RONALD REAGAN

When Sol Linowitz went with Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker to "co-negotiate" a new Panama Canal treaty with dictator Omar Torrijos' government last month, he was all smiles and optimism. But, when he returned the other day he said he wasn't sure there could be a treaty by June, after all.

Though the White House is playing its cards very close, seasoned observers think that Linowitz either underestimated the Panamanians' bargaining table tactics, or the Panamanians themselves decided to switch to a good-cop-bad-cop routine to take advantage of the White House's obvious desire to rush a treaty into print by June.

WHY THE RUSH? Linowitz may be one of the reasons. On Feb. 8, President Carter appointed Linowitz "special representative of the President," with rank of ambassador. It was a temporary, six-month appointment, thus skirting the usual requirement of Senate confirmation.

If the treaty isn't ready by late June or early July, Carter will either have to find himself a new man, or send Linowitz up Capitol Hill for confirmation hearings. They could prove embarrassing.

As a temporary appointee, Linowitz has not divested himself of his outside interests, some of which have "Potential Conflict" written all over them. In fact, he offers an ironic contrast to Carter's pure-as-the-driven-snow policies about conflict-of-interest.

HE HAS HIS Washington law practice. Until Feb. 4 he was a registered agent for the government of Colombia, Torrijos' most vocal Latin American supporter for U.S. surrender of the Canal. (In 1972 he was a registered agent for the since-deposed Marxist Allende regime in Chile.)

He is still on the board of directors of Pan American Airways, for which Panama City is an important stop. He is also on the board of directors of the Marine Midland Bank, one of the New York banks whose loans are propping up the inflated, badly managed economy of Panama.

The New York bankers are scared stiff that if a treaty isn't signed soon - giving Torrijos just about anything he wants - one or more of the following things will happen: the Panamanians will go on a rampage; Torrijos will fall; the country will "destabilize," it will declare a moratorium on its loan payments or, worse, default them entirely.

In the latter case, the New York banks end up holding the bag.

LINOWITZ, AS A BOARD MEMBER of one of those banks (and one which is rumored to be on the Comptroller of the Currency's "watch" list), is likely to see things from the bankers' point of view.

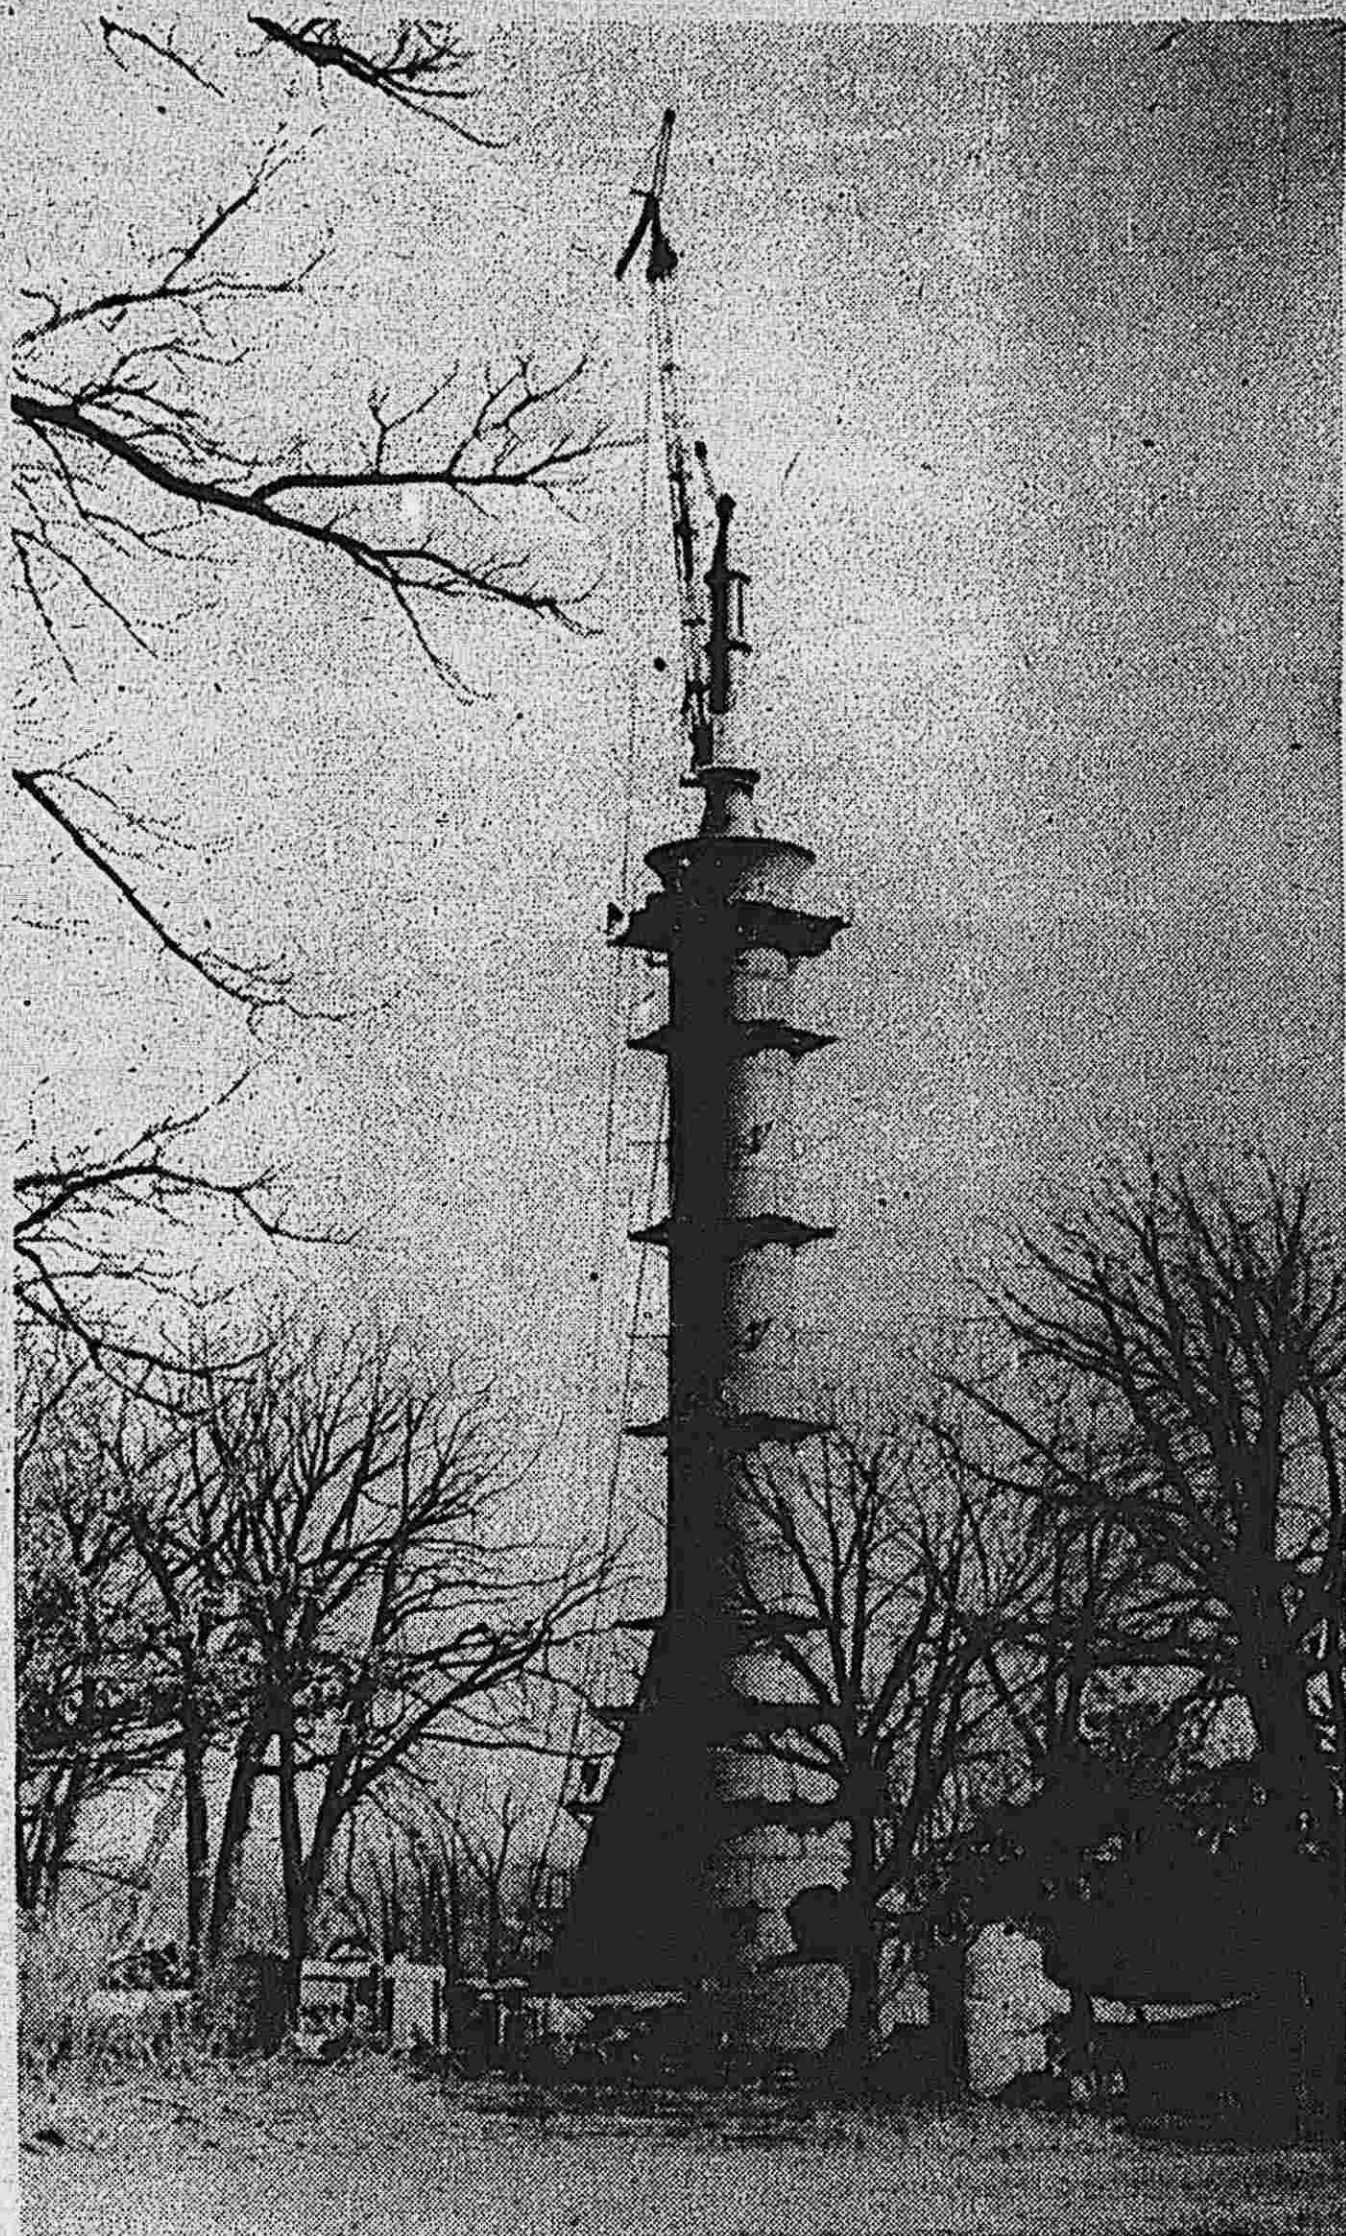

Torrijos has adroitly taken advantage of the bankers' nervousness to line them up in favor of the U.S., giving him full control of the Canal. Chances are, his negotiators dug in their heels at the recent talks knowing the Carter Administration's strong wish to conclude the matter before Linowitz' time runs out.

So, Carter & Co. have some tough decisions facing them before Bunker and Linowitz head back to Contadora Island next month. If they bow to Torrijos' "bad cop" demands, they risk stiffer opposition to ratification in the Senate.

On the other hand, if they harden the U.S. position in consideration of long-range security interest, the talks could bog down for months. And, the longer they bog, the more of an open political sore the issue will become with the U.S. public.

PUBLIC OPINION is still running better than three-to-one against the giveaway.

It seems likely that Carter had decided to swallow hard on this issue and get it behind him early, hoping the voters would forget about it by 1980. But now it may not turn out that way.

NEW RIDE AT GREAT AMERICA? No, this isn't an amusement park, it's Antioch's new elevated water storage tank, now being constructed at Rt. 173 and McMillen Rd., just east of the high school.

"Alternatives to Drug Addiction" was the program at the Mar. 7 meeting of the Antioch Woman's Club. Mario Moreno, drug counselor at the Veterans Administration Hospital at Downey, presented the program, assisted by Dave Schober and George Banks, former drug users. They are members of Icarus Two, a therapeutic community for drug-abusing veterans.

It was an interesting and informative program and the men answered many questions by club members.

Hostesses included: Anna Mae Dziki, Nancy Boarini, Polly Bruhn, Lucile Hojem, Marguerite Nelson, Ruth Pickus, Mary Polley, Jean Stanley and Gay Sven.

THE NEXT MEETING, Monday, Mar. 21, will have "Decorating with Antiques and Junk" as the program, presented by Judy Cherney of Elmhurst, a junquer.

COMING EVENTS include the Tenth District Illinois Woman's Club's Spring Luncheon and fashion show Tuesday, Mar. 29 at the Arlington Hilton Hotel. Also planned is the Antioch Woman's Club tour, Wednesday, Apr. 6, to Chateau Louise for luncheon and play, "Send Me No Flowers," starring Imogene Coco.

Honor VIPs Saturday

By BETTY HOPE

Final touches are being put on the decorations for the ninth annual VIP Dinner Dance honoring Hank and Ricky Apostol this Saturday.

PAT SHAFFER and her crew will put it all together on Thursday and Friday evenings. Many of the teachers and students of St. Peter's School have helped Pat with the drawing, cutting out, painting, and pasting.

Kay Wells also is a busy lady these days. She and her kitchen staff are busy as a beehive preparing the large variety of culinary treats. In addition, Kay is preparing a special dish for the VIPs and their family.

Antioch's firefighters will be dispensing the firewater to quench the thirst that we are bound to acquire dancing to the music of "The Diamonds." The magic fingers of Babe Wagner at the organ will entertain us during the cocktail hour.

A RECORD CROWD is expected to turn out for Antioch's salute to our 1977 very important people.

PERSPECTIVES

Five false faces of love

By CRAIG MASSEY
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

If love is the chief ingredient of marriage, it is necessary for every person to think about it, to define it, and to act according to his conclusions. The evaluation of other people's ideas about love should stimulate a person's mind and help him express his own ideas.

There are a number of emotional or physical sensations that are much easier to experience in our encounters with the opposite sex. Love may have nothing to do at all with what we are feeling, and yet we apply the word "love" to the situation.

Most people discover that these sensations they have experienced were nothing but false faces of love.

1. Infatuation

Infatuation is a childish feeling, usually extremely one-sided. It is an emotional madness and it lasts for only a short time. It gives a distorted, unrealistic view based on dreamstuff and not on reality.

It is not uncommon for those who marry very young to do so because of infatuation. The marriage is immediately threatened, for infatuation cannot last, and unless it is replaced by love, it will fall apart.

2. Romance

Romance is adult infatuation. It generally occurs under the most idealistic circumstances. The danger lies in its blindness: it is an occasion when the emotions dominate the intellect.

The theater, novels, popular songs and television basically present romance as love. It is actually a fractional part of love, and no foundation for marriage.

3. Affection

Affection is delightful, for it is one person's enjoyable response to another person's attractiveness. Marriage without love, but based on affection, can be a moderately good union.

One thing should be remembered: love is constant and does not waver. Affection depends on the attractiveness of the other person; therefore, it is not always consistent.

4. Friendship

Friendship is a cure for loneliness, boredom and depression—said to be the most often encountered illnesses today.

A friendship marriage is a convenient arrangement, yet without true love it does not in any way approach the full potential for the union.

5. Passion

although passion is a God-given drive, the animal need makes unreasonable demands and many, motivated primarily by this urge, marry, only to find that within a few months the excitement wears off. They are locked into marriage.

The physical relationship is very important in marriage. The Lord makes this clear, but it must be done His way.

All five counterfeits for love lead into fascinating experiences, but none of them alone will support a marriage relationship. Unless the essential ingredient called love is added the union will be found wanting. Love can stand the test of time.

Your Guide to Fine Dining and Excellent Entertainment

THE Entertainer

'World's funniest comedy' opens here Friday, Apr. 9

PM&L Theater's next play in Antioch will be "Charley's Aunt," by Brandon Thomas.

Sometimes billed as "the world's funniest comedy," the farce has kept literally millions of people laughing since it was first produced in 1892.

The ridiculously complicated plot centers on invitations from Jack Chesney (played by Dan Baugher of Millburn) and Charles Wykeham (Dan Maloney, Fox Lake) to their girl friends, Kitty Verdun (Pamela Hunley, Antioch) and Amy Spettique (Patricia Napolitano, Fox Lake) to a luncheon, which is also to be attended by Charley's millionaire aunt, Donna Lucia (Bev Palmburg, Libertyville).

When it turns out that Donna Lucia seems unable to attend the affair, Jack and Charley's friend, Lord Fancourt Babberly (Mark Kettner, Round Lake), helpfully agrees to impersonate Charley's aunt. You can imagine the hilarious confusion when the real Donna Lucia shows up anyway.

THE PRODUCTION IS DIRECTED by Pat Jamison, who also directed "The Pajama Game."

Antioch audiences also remember Pat's performances in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Fiddler on the Roof," and "The Lion in Winter."

Others in the PM&L cast of "Charley's Aunt" are Steven Woolaway of Great Lakes, Josef Hunley of Antioch, Kevin Little of Antioch, and Laura Krah, Lake Villa.

The dates for "Charley's Aunt" are Friday and Saturday evenings, Apr. 9, 15, 16, 22 and 23. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for all performances.

For reservations the number to call is 395-3055.

BALLOONS AND LOVELY MODELS made "Fashions in Bloom" a delightful event at Four Squires clothing store last week. The young lady at the left wore a quilted, hooded jacket and red slacks by "Smart Pants." Behind her was a model colorfully attired in a gypsy floral skirt with a mandarin collar T-top.

Happenings

The College of Lake County Symphonic Wind Ensemble, under the direction of Don Perrilles, and the Round Lake Community Concert

Band, under the direction of Keith Ramsden, will present a combined band concert at 4 p.m., Sunday, Mar. 20 in the Orange Court at the College of Lake County. Admission is free.

Guest Soloist with the CLC Wind Ensemble will be Robert Wingard, pianist and composer.

'Showboat 77' very good, will make 2 more trips

The paddle wheels of "Showboat 77" will be churning again this weekend and it's a production worth seeing.

The Antioch High School Jazz Ensemble presented the show last Friday and Saturday before sizeable, appreciative audiences.

The musical variety show will close this weekend with 7:30 p.m. performances Friday and Saturday at the high school auditorium.

Tickets are being sold by the school's band members and may be available at the door in limited numbers. They cost $2 for adults and $1 for students.

"This is the third year the ensemble has staged a variety show and this is the best yet," said Director John Olisar.

HE WAS RIGHT. The set was outstanding and the lighting effects added excitement by creating the movement of the paddle wheels.

The students showed remarkable talent. Dave

Brooke did an excellent job as master of ceremonies and, on opening night, as the cast gained poise, each act seemed to get better as the program progressed.

The swing choir was enjoyable as usual and those performers deserve mention: Laura Hotchkiss, Rosline Scheske, Janet Nordstrom, Jenny Beese, Sherry Pechulis, Michelle Desbiens, Karen Klean, Kathy Anderson, Dorothy Emmerich, Curt Harnisch, Madison Bolt, Dave Zeien, Mike Wudtke, Jim Gutowski, Glenn Learmont, Steve Davis and Dan Miller.

THERE WERE SO MANY highlights we can't mention them all. But we can't forget Sheila Haley and Jamie Grunewals, portraying two old farmers.

"Nose Witness News," with Kevin Anderson, Dave Brooke and Jerry Kennedy, was a fine comedy skit.

"Mississippi Mud" was handled in delightful fashion by singers Barrie Kovach, Gloria Wells, Sherry Irmen and Ingrid Lindberg.

THE SCHOOL'S MODERN DANCE group did "Basin Street Blues," and those 14 deserves praise, too:

Astro-Analysis

ARIES (March 21-April 19) - Imagination and energy can be incorporated to help you get ahead; ambitions and drive makes most things possible now. Some may think your ideas are far-fetched but the success story you're building tells the tale.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) - Examine all the facts and figures before making any new commitment that involves too drastic a change. There's plenty of time to consider, so don't be pushed.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) - Think of your own personal interests first; aims and ambitions should be your only consideration. If outsiders tend to get you sidetracked seek some time alone over the weekend.

CANCER (June 22-July 21) - Old friends and acquaintances can be beneficial in lending valuable advice. Although social activities continue to present themselves in abundance, time spent with those you know best is wise.

LEO (July 22-August 21) - A restless urge to change your present course of direction career-wise is indicated; take the time to think things out clearly.

VIRGO (August 22-September 22) - Your judgement in business matters may be called upon so use good common sense in making decisions. Include mate or partner, even though things are only in the planning stages.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) - Although routine activities seem dull present obligations need to be cleared away before embarking upon more intriguing matters.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) - Associates may not understand your actions, therefore you may be forced to work alone to avoid friction. Continue that present project with confidence.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 20) - If you take the time needed any perplexing problem can be solved now patience is the key. Dismiss those ideas you may be entertaining which are too impulsive.

CAPRICORN (December 21-January 20) - A good week to put into practice your good business qualities. You are in a better position to communicate those ideas effectively with superiors.

AQUARIUS (January 21-February 19) - Your good sense of humor can be an advantageous highlight; although a routine week is indicated, there's still room for enjoyment.

PISCES (February 20-March 20) - A week when patience and tolerance may be put to the test. Try to keep temper under control; think before you act. A happy, optimistic attitude is your best asset.

Comedy on CLC stage

College of Lake County's stage will come alive with its spring production of James Thurber's comedy "A Thurber Carnival." It will be presented at 8 p.m. on two successive weekends, Apr. 1, 2, 8, 9 in building 5 on the CLC campus.

In "Carnival" Thurber draws together a series of his sketches and stories to present a panoramic view of the world as he knew it.

This montage offers opportunity for fast-paced, sophisticated banter and burlesque.

"There's a free kit available at the post office to make this easy to do," Postmaster Ehrhart said.

Given such information, the post office will forward your first class mail to your new address for a full year without any additional charge. Publications and packages of obvious value also will be forwarded for one year if the postage is guaranteed.

If you move and leave no forwarding address, the post office will hold your mail for 10 days to be claimed. Then it's considered undeliverable.

OTHER MAIL IS CONSIDERED undeliverable if it has no postage; if it's refused by the addressee at time of delivery, or returned unopened and marked "refused," or if General Delivery mail is not picked up within 30 days.

What happens to UAA mail?

Postmaster Ehrhart explained that undeliverable mail is returned to the sender if there's an address. If there is no return address, the mail goes to a "dead letter" office where it is opened and an effort is made to determine a deliverable address for either the sender or receiver.

When UAA mail is returned to the sender, a "hand" pointing to the return address is stamped on the envelope, along with the words "Return To Sender." Another stamp adds one of several possible reasons, such as "Moved, Left No Forwarding Address," "Addressee Unknown,"

Winter is such a miserable season that even things like skiing and snowmobiling seem like fun.

Moore runs for office

Glen Moore, 41, of 404 Surrey Ln., Lindenhurst, has announced he will be a write-in candidate for the Lake Villa township supervisor position in the Apr. 5 election.

Moore said his priorities in seeking the office include a strong desire to work for unification. He feels he is offering the voters of Lake Villa township "a choice for a supervisor who will restore integrity and honesty to the office."

MOORE HAS SERVED Lake Villa township for the past five years as one of its two representatives on the board of education of the Antioch High School.

Moore said he feels his school board experience gives him a broad viewpoint to approach township government.

He is also a trustee of the Lindenhurst Sanitary District.

Moore said his supporters will host a reception Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Intermediate School in Lake Villa.

"All township residents are invited," he said. Moore is an account agent with Allstate Insurance Company with offices in Mundelein.

YES! The tailor is not liable for the loss of the suit, provided the fire was accidental and he took reasonable care of the suit. He is legally entitled, therefore, to collect his bill for cleaning and repairing. Of course, most tailors are insured against losses by fire.

ANTIOCH'S ANNUAL "DUCKS UNLIMITED" dinner was a huge success again this year. A sellout crowd attended the event at St. Peter's Social center. As usual, one of the highlights was the auction conducted by Herman Behm, pointing from his microphone. At the right, holding up an auction item, is William E. Brook, president of the State Bank of Antioch and one of the community's leading sportsmen and conservationists. "Ducks Unlimited," headed by Terry Folbrick in this area, raises money for the breeding of waterfowl.

The Town Crier

The Town Crier has a serious dilemma this week.

He has a new Polish Joke. Now, those who know us realize that we are very prejudiced. We like Polish people best of all.

But once we ran a Polish joke and a lady wrote in and complained. So we ran another Polish joke, and several of our Polish friends called to say how much they enjoyed it.

YESTERDAY, WE received a letter from our good Antioch friend, John L. Dupre, who has been in Florida and sent us a clipping from the Miami Herald.

"Talk about the worst Polish joke," he said. "Try this one." Thank you for your vote of confidence, John, and here goes ... right from the Miami Herald:

Have you heard the one about the Polish bank robber who tried to get away on an MTA bus — and got caught by a cop called "Dick Tracy?"

It happened on Miami Beach at 11:12 a.m. Tuesday at 800 Alton Rd.

What might be called a bad ethnic joke in fact occurred to Miroslaw Taras, 49, an alien from Poland.

It was a little after 11 a.m.

when Taras walked into the First Federal Savings and Loan Association at 900 Alton Rd.

The way witnesses tell it, Taras approached the lady in charge of new accounts.

"MAY I help you?" the banker asked. "Yes," replied Taras. "This is a holdup."

He had unzipped his briefcase. The banker thought he was pointing a big black pistol — it was an unloaded B-B gun.

She escorted Taras to a teller and said they were being robbed — and please give this man what he wanted.

The teller handed Taras $7,250 in bills that had been carefully recorded ahead of time. And while cameras took Taras' picture, he stuffed money in his briefcase and fled. And the firm's alarm rang in the police station.

Taras didn't have a car so he ran and caught the MTA S-bus. He put 30 cents in the box and stood in the aisle.

DAVID TRACEY, a Miami Beach officer known at headquarters as "Dick Tracy," arrived at the bank.

"We've been robbed!" cried Please turn to page 16

DOMESTIC & INTERNATIONAL ABC's of Travel

By BARB CORBIN

Summer vacations just around the corner? Remember that check list of easy-to-forget steps when you leave.

Most people remember the routine steps to take when they prepare for a trip, such as stopping newspaper and mail deliveries. But even experienced travelers can forget a few other pointers that can cause some inconvenience or worse.

Following are several important tips people may overlook:

Check the expiration dates of insurance policies. Make some arrangement with your landlord, if you pay rent and won't be home on the day it regularly is paid.

Leave your home, office and car keys and a copy of your itinerary with a friend. Give him the name and phone number of your lawyer, in case any emergencies arise.

When it comes to packing, remember to take along medical and eyeglass prescriptions.

Take along a small alarm clock, if you have one. I know more than one traveler who missed a plane when the hotel telephone operator forgot a request for an early morning call!

Be safe not sorry.

Young Raiders victorious in tournament

The Emmons seventh grade basketball team capped a 16-2 season with a thrilling, "come from behind" victory over Grass Lake to capture the Big Six Tournament title.

EMMONS WAS PLAGUED by cold shooting through the first three quarters of the title game. Strong rebounding by Steve Sheedlo and Rick Ranney kept the Raiders even with Grass Lake, who was led by center Ed Jorgensen. Grass Lake was able to neutralize Emmons' fast break and prevented penetration with a tight zone defense.

Emmons fell behind, 23-18, in the fourth quarter and moved to a full court man-to-man press. Bob Thain had several key steals to lead Emmons' comeback. The Raiders scored eight unanswered points to regain the lead as Steve Sheedlo converted a three-point play and Chris Willems connected on two shots from the deep corner.

Rick Ranney's free throw with 10 seconds left iced the game, giving Emmons a 26-23 lead. The Raiders then allowed the Grass Lake Team to score unmolested, and avoided a foul and possible three-point play.

STEVE SHEEDLO led the Raiders with 11 points in the final game. Sheedlo was later elected most valuable player by his teammates.

To reach the finals, the Raiders destroyed Lotus, 39-4.

Unlimited branch banking opposed by local Chamber

The board of directors of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry has taken a position in opposition to unlimited branch banking in the state of Illinois.

Chamber president Richard Kirkpatrick gave the following reasons:

"The economy of Illinois is very strong and branch banking has no relationship to economic growth.

"The independent banking system has served and continues to serve well the financial needs of Illinois citizens.

"Unlimited branch banking could be detrimental to smaller communities for many reasons:

"It allows them the draining off of local assets to the large money centers.

"Many times bank branch managers have no financial investments locally and are also, many times, not permanent residents of the community, and for this reason do not understand the needs of the local community.

"Most loan decisions of any magnitude must be channeled through the parent bank, which may or may not have any knowledge pertaining to the particular loan request.

"Locally-owned and managed banks have served their communities well and will continue to do so."

Featured in the show, Friday through Sunday Apr. 1-2-3, will be examples of all three stock car classes racing at Waukegan this season: late model "super stocks," late model "modifieds," and hobby stock cars.

WHEN THE GREEN FLAG falls Saturday night, Apr. 9, the feature on the card will be a 50-lap main event for the late model "super stocks" with last season's top drivers, Ray Young and Bob Dotter in the field.

Sunday night racing will be added one week later (Apr. 17) with the "super stocks" and hobbies in action. As soon as the new late model "modified" class has sufficient entries, they will take over the Saturday night slot.

The new "modified" division has sparked a lot of interest and a number of brand new cars are being built to the unique rules of that class. Some of the body styles include Pinto, Vega, Hornet and Gremlin, set on the modified type chassis.

Do you know about the home heating system that pulls energy out of thin air?

Introducing the heat pump.

Scientists have known for centuries that the air around us is a storehouse of heat energy. But it's only been in recent years that they were able to develop an efficient way to tap that abundant resource—the heat pump. Today, it is the only commercially available heating system that provides an answer to shrinking supplies of other fuels.

How the heat pump works:

Basically, the heat pump moves heat from one place to another. It uses electricity to extract heat from a limitless source—the heat in outdoor air. During winter, enough heat remains in the air—even on the coldest and cloudiest days—to be extracted by the pump and transferred indoors as clean, flameless heat.

And during warm weather, the process automatically reverses, removing excess indoor heat and humidity like an air conditioner.

Better efficiency.

In short, the heat pump does the job of both a furnace and an air conditioner. But there's an important difference. In northern Illinois the heat pump can produce more than 1½ units of heat energy for every unit it consumes. That's better efficiency than any other current heating system. That could mean significant long-term savings on heating costs.

To get the full advantages of the heat pump, it's important to get a quality product, properly installed and reliably serviced. For the name of qualified installers in your area, call G. W. Berkheimer Co. (Westinghouse Distributors), 312-374-4411; General Electric Co., 312-496-6356; Lennox Industries, Inc., 312-593-2820; or Temperature Equipment Corp. (Carrier Distributors), 312-681-6220. If you want additional heat pump information, call your local Commonwealth Edison office and talk to one of our marketing engineers.
